

Strindberg und Helium in: Absinthe & Women

Ein Film von
Erin Bradley, Eun-Ha Paek und James Bewley

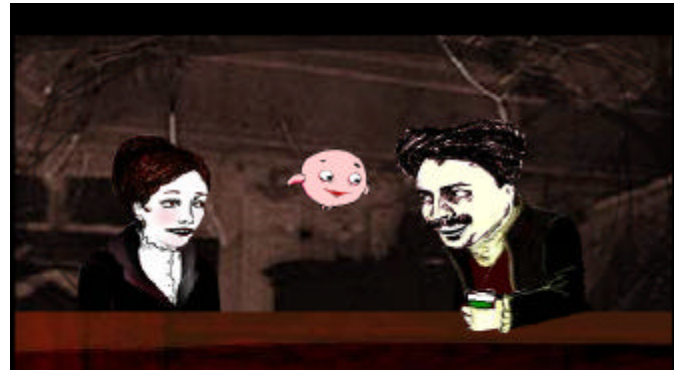

Ah, absinthe is now my only vice and my last remaining pleasure. How sweet life can be when the misery of one's existence is blurred by a ...

... slight intoxication. It brings some joy to this long and boring walk through the shadowland of memory.

You - come here often?

I'm Strindberg.

August Strindberg.

And this is Helium.

I had forgotten that a female saint is after all a woman.

That is to say: man's enemy.
